

EEIP Privacy Policy

(last update: 07.09.2016)

Terms and conditions

1. Gathering your personal data

The EEIP portal does not ask its Users for name-specific registration when simply visiting and searching on its portal.

When browsing on the EEIP portal (www.ee-ip.org) some personal data is automatically generated.

This electronic identification data comprises:

- connection data : the IP address of the User's computer, the type and version of browser program, the URL address visited;

- usage data: keywords types, search(es) carried out, sectors, fields and headings selected.

Other personal data may be communicated voluntarily by the User to EEIP. This concerns all the data given by users and clients when filling in various website forms.

2. Use of your personal data

EEIP undertakes to process personal data gathered on its portal in accordance with the following specific aims:

- general operation of the EEIP portal including its EnergyPages services;
- operation of services for registered or subscribed Users;
- gathering and transmitting administrative information;
- compiling statistics on traffic, use and surveys;
- collecting and replying to suggestions or requests for information;
- communication security;
- organization of commercial canvassing and marketing operations.

EEIP keeps connection data (i.e.: data recovered by the User log) for a maximum period of one (01) year and does so only for the purposes of compiling statistics.

With regard to data given voluntarily by the User on the EEIP portal, EEIP keeps these data for a maximum period of six (06) months following the last connection or contact by the User.

EEIP does not sell, rent or market the personal data collected on the EEIP portal. EEIP reserves the right to disclose the personal data that it collects only to comply with a legal or statutory obligation.

EEIP reserves the right to contact user companies in order to offer them new products or put forward new commercial offers.

3. Security of your personal data

EEIP portal is hosted at domainfactory (www.df.eu) utilizing their full set of measures designed to limit the risks associated with intrusion, piracy and the introduction of viruses into its servers. EEIP is unable to offer any absolute guarantee of security, insofar as Internet is an open network that is, by its very nature, sensitive to such risks.

Strict rules of access are applied in order to prevent non-authorized access, loss, improper use and modification of the stored personal data.

4. Unsubscribing

Any member of EEIP portal can request to delete its personal data at any time by sending a mail to mail@ee-ip.org. EEIP endeavors to satisfy requests concerning the personal data in their possession within a period of four (04) weeks following receipt of the request.

If a member receives a newsletter or other services requiring subscription they do not want to receive anymore, they can request to not longer receiving it by clicking on the “unsubscribe” button

5. Application of these rules – Assignment of jurisdiction

EEIP’s personal data protection policy does not apply to:

- websites independent from the EEIP portal that have established a hyperlink or search block directing Users to service offers;
- websites working in partnership with EEIP portal that have integrated one of the services on their website (co-branding);
- websites working in partnership with EEIP portal that are accessible through integration in one of the offered services (co-branded websites);
- websites belonging to EEIP’s commercial partners.

EEIP therefore advises its Users to consult the data protection policies applied by these different websites.

In the event of any major difficulty or dispute with EEIP, the parties agree to seek an amicable solution.

Failing this, Bruxelles, Belgium shall be granted jurisdiction.
